

MILHOLLAND WORRIES PLATT.

And Patterson Declines to Play Into the Antis' Hands.

End of the Milholland Scheme May Come Saturday Night.

John E. Milholland, of the anti-Communist movement, is worrying Mr. Platt a great deal. Mr. Milholland refuses to be "boiled out" of his going ahead organizing the anti-Communist movement and doing everything he can to antagonize Jacob Patterson in the hope that Patterson will get mad and play into his hands by rejecting the Root reorganization plan.

Patterson has signified his willingness to be reorganized. Milholland started his movement on the presumption that Patterson wouldn't yield up the old machine unless he was forced to do so. Milholland undertook the task of making the reorganization Patterson submit with the expectation, it is said, of stepping into Patterson's shoes as leader of the reorganized party.

By acquiescing to the wishes of the majority of the party, Patterson remains a member in good standing in the organization, and will continue to have power and influence. This unexpected action of the old campaigner was a severe check to the ambition of young Milholland.

The Patterson men say Milholland may well be well off in not doing anything good by his mischief-making, in which, it is said, Mr. Platt, in the late Justice of the Supreme Court, concurs.

Milholland's object is to have his organization recognized as the regular one.

Meetings of the Milholland faction will be held tonight at the Second District, at 35 East Broadway, and in the Twenty-second District, at 24 East Seventy-third street.

The County Committee will meet Saturday night to adopt the Root plan, and will be an end to Milholland's schemes.

THREATS TO BURN HIS SHOP.

Cigar Manufacturer Silverthorn Asks Protection from Strikers.

His Non-Union Workmen Attacked by a Ex-Employees.

In consequence of the strike recently ordered in Silverthorn's cigar manufacturer, Ninety-eighth street and First avenue, Silverthorn has been threatened by the strikers to burn his shop. Silverthorn also fears that his building may be burned down about his head, as threats to that effect have been made.

Complaints of that nature were made this morning to the police of the East One Hundred and Fourth street station. Officers were at once detailed to guard the building, and blueprints will remain on duty day and night while the trouble lasts.

About seventy-five of the cigar-makers are out, and ever since the strike was ordered, Silverthorn's business has been hampered in the vicinity of the building. Police protection was asked for, but in spite of the blueprints, a small sized riot broke out last night.

Twelve of the non-union men, having got through with their day's work at 6 o'clock, started from the factory to the elevated. Silverthorn's building is on the corner of Ninety-eighth street and First avenue, and the non-union men, by that way, intended to reach their homes.

Police officers, however, were not on duty at the time, and the non-union men, in a spirit of defiance, threw stones at the police officers, and then stone-throwing began.

Some of the non-union men were hit by one of the missiles, and the police officers, in an effort to disperse the strikers, used tear gas. The strikers, however, refused to disperse, and the police officers, in an effort to disperse the strikers, used tear gas.

YAMMIN THE TALL BURGLAR?

Blanch Family's Testimony Regarded as Very Conflicting.

Has a Good Reputation and Alleges Police Conspiracy.

LONG ISLAND CITY, Jan. 11.—The only one of the six suspects arrested by the "Big Red" police in connection with the robbery of the Blanch family in the Grand Jury is Arthur H. Yammin. The other five have all been charged from custody. Yammin is alleged to be the "tall burglar." Now there is considerable comment in Long Island City regarding his case.

Yammin was arrested by Kelly on suspicion of being one of the masked burglars who robbed the Blanch family in the Grand Jury on the night of Dec. 10.

Police Justice Charles T. Duffy, before whom Yammin was tried, came in for a share of the criticism in Yammin's case. Blanch, the proprietor of the hotel, was ordered to go into the witness stand last Monday in a condition which seemed to indicate that he had been drinking.

While upon the stand, Yammin referred to the prisoner at the bar as "that fat fellow," "that bloke," "that mug," and other euphemistic expressions. After giving his testimony, Yammin immediately left the stand and returned to his cell.

Yammin is a broad, heavy-set man, six feet tall, with a thick neck and a large head. He lives at 32 East Twelfth street, in the Grand Jury, and is a native of the Grand Jury. His mother is just sixty years of age, while his only sister is dying of cancer. He is said to have a good reputation among his neighbors.

Mrs. Drier, whose house on Vernon avenue was robbed on election night, at 10 o'clock, said that she did not know Yammin. She said that she did not know Yammin, and that she did not know Yammin.

At Saturday's hearing of the case, Yammin said he could not identify the "tall burglar" as the man who had robbed his house. He said that he did not know Yammin, and that he did not know Yammin.
